OVERVIEW of STEM CELL

At Boise Biologics we specialize in advanced regenerative treatments including stem cell therapy. We utilize the gold standard in stem cell treatment by performing bone marrow aspiration. This is an incredible and reliable mechanism to tap into the power of your bone marrow, which is a profoundly rich source of nutrients, growth factors and stem cells. Many of the stem cells found in your bone marrow are mesenchymal stem cells. This type of stem cell has the ability to turn into new structural tissue, such as new ligament, bone, cartilage, muscle or tendon. These stem cells can also continue to self replicate leading to further healing of the surrounding tissue. Stem cell therapy offers great potential to heal damaged tissues and joints naturally, providing patients less pain, improved function and a return to optimal health.
